PURPOSE: A key goal of this project is to identify and evaluate risk reduction measures for safer marine transportation operating throughout the Aleutian Islands and Bering Sea. The goal of this workshop is to inform the Advisory Panel and Project Team members about the legal/regulatory framework that would govern any proposed risk reduction measure. This workshop will include briefings on international, federal, and state rules governing marine vessels transiting the region. Although seating is limited, the workshop is open to the public. The Advisory Panel and Project Team members will be given priority by the facilitators to raise questions and engage in discussion during the workshop.
